PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam presented its same hard conditions for peace in Vietnam at the Paris talks today, showing no change since the death of President Ho Chi Minh. The United States then assailed Hanoi for "inhuman treatment" of American prisoners of war.

The 32nd plenary session had been postponed Sept. 4 at North Vietnam's request for a mourning period for Ho, who died Sept. 3. The North Vietnamese and Viet Cong repeated demands for a U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam and a coalition government.

Then U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, who said in advance his speech had "unusual significance," challenged North Vietnam to permit inspection of prison camps and to abide by the Geneva convention on treatment of prisoners of war.

"You should realize," he declared, "that your failure to act in accordance with humane practice flies in the face of world public opinion as a whole."

Lodge told Ambassador Ha Van Lau, sitting in as chief of the North Vietnamese delegation: "We have long been concerned by your refusal to permit impartial inspection of your prison camps. Frankly, this refusal inevitably brings up the thought that you fear that an inspection would not confirm your claims of humane treatment."

Lodge said that concern about treatment of American prisoners held in North Vietnam has been recently deepened by statements made earlier this month by two American prisoners released in August by the North Vietnamese.

He quoted seaman Douglas B. Hegdahl as saying: "I was kept in solitary confinement for over a year. I was made to stand with my hands over my head for trying to talk with other prisoners of war."

Cable Television Questions Answered

Questions are being raised about cable television and the Thursday election whether the city should issue a franchise to a firm to provide the service.

The proposal, if approved by the city, would grant a franchise to See Mor Cable TV Inc. No one would be required to take the service. Cable television would not interfere with other television reception.

A spokesman for See Mor said the three area television channels from Cape Girardeau, Paducah and Harrisburg stations would be available. In addition to these stations offering programs of the three major networks, plans, which are subject to Federal Communications Corporation approval, call for availability of an independent channel out of St. Louis as well as an educational channel offered to schools at no cost.

$106 Fine Imposed For Driving Offense

A careless driving charge against Dunning was dropped. Jewell Hatchett, 218 Westgate, was fined $56 and given a 10-day suspended term for driving while intoxicated.

Willie Ray Stages, 217 Daniel, was fined $31 and given a 10-day suspended sentence for peace disturbance.

Atha N. Moon, 601 West Murray Lane, was fined $11 for having an inadequate car muffler.

Dennis Young, 315 West Gladys, was fined $16 for a curfew violation.

A $56 bond on a DWI charge was forfeited to the court when James L. Smith, Hartford, Ky., failed to appear in court.

Margie Young, 315 West Gladys, was fined $7 for allowing her son to violate the city's curfew.

Dennis D. Allen, Morehouse, was fined $15 for careless and driving.

Steven J. Stewart Killed in Crash

Sp. 4 Steven J. Stewart, 20, a member of the 594th Transportation company at Ft. Campbell, Ky., was killed today at 1:30 a.m. in a single car crash on U.S. highway 41A, five miles south of Hopkinsville, Ky.

The highly decorated Sikeston soldier was a son of Mrs. Annabelle Stewart, 616 William, and Louis L. Stewart, St. Louis. He was scheduled to be discharged from the army Sept. 26.

Another soldier killed in the accident was Sp5 Christian B. Johnson, 24, Jackson, N. H. A third passenger, Sp5 William Allen Heimbrecht, Seymour, Ind., was injured but was reported to be in satisfactory condition at a Fort Campbell hospital. The three served in the same transportation company. It was not determined immediately who was driver of the car. The car struck a guard rail, which cut the vehicle in two pieces, covering both lanes of the highway.

Stewart's medals included the bronze star, purple heart with one oakleaf cluster, Vietnam campaign medal, Vietnam service medal, combat infantry badge, air medal, army commendation medal and the national defense medal.

Stewart was employed as clerk in the J. C. Penney store three years while in high school. He graduated from Sikeston high school in 1967.

Hearnes Says People Misled by Blackwell

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Gov. Warren E. Hearnes said Friday night that Sen. Earl Blackwell is a demagogue misleading the people of Missouri.

Hearnes said it simply isn't true that Missouri is losing $176 million a year in sales tax as Blackwell contended earlier this week.

"For this to be true," the governor said, "every businessman in Missouri, including the man who operates the corner grocery store or filling station, would have to steal $2,200 from the state every year."

"If one man wants to accuse all Missouri businessmen of such wide-scale dishonesty, let him say it in those words."

Hearnes spoke to about 400 persons at a $50-a-plate testimonial dinner for Sen. Donald L. Manford, D-Kansas City.

Blackwell, D-Hillsboro, president pro tem of the Missouri Senate, is a political rival of the governor and is trying to block Hearnes' efforts to obtain an increase in state income taxes.

"What's the popular thing to do?" Hearnes asked. "Be a

Petition Could Block Higher Retirement Pay

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — A referendum petition signed by 61,761 voters could block a bill giving higher retirement benefits to Legislators, the Jefferson City Post-Tribune says.

The newspaper noted the petitions would have to be filed with the secretary of state by Oct. 13, the date the new law becomes effective. That would give the voters a chance to pass on it in the November 1970 election.

The Post-Tribune has opposed the new law editorially for months.

It noted a legislator with 20 years service could retire at 55 and get $6,720 a year the rest of his life. A state employee with 20 years service, earning the same pay as a legislator, $8,400, would receive only $2,140 a year.

Two Sikeston juvenile boys were arrested yesterday in connection with four house burglaries. The arrests were made when the boys attempted to purchase bus tickets to Cape Girardeau to attend the Southeast Missouri Fair. The ticket man noticed the youths had lots of change and called police.

Police said they believed a large amount of the change the youths had in their possession came from a squirrel bank stolen during the last two days from the residence of C. D. Russell, 829 Ruth. The bank contained about $75 in change.

But there will be a $1 cut in the 1,742-mile Chicago-Los Angeles fare. Although the CAB order mentioned only one fare, saying that the Los Angeles-New York charge would be reduced from $145 to $141, a board rate expert placed the new fare at $139, a reduction of $6, or 4.14 per cent.

The New York-Miami fare, distance 1,094 miles, would remain unchanged at $72.

Under the formula, there will be a flat $9 charge for each ticket—then an additional charge for each mile flown, ranging from 6 cents per mile for trips under 500 miles down to 4.8 cents per mile for flights of more than 2,000 miles.

The basic fare covers coach service—with first-class jet fares 25 per cent higher and night coach fares 25 per cent lower than the base.

The discounts for promotional fares will be reduced—from the present 25 per cent to 20 per cent for Discover America fares; from 50 per cent at present to 40 per cent for youth standby fares; and from 33 1/3 per cent to 20 per cent for young adult reservation fares.

Family plan discounts will be reduced, also, to half fare for children 2 to 11, and two-thirds fare for children 12 to 21, accompanying the adult.

Property Survey Outlined

BENTON — If plans go as scheduled, Scott county real estate property should be more equal in assessments than ever before by 1971.

During a meeting yesterday with city officials in the county, the county court disclosed plans for an equalization program next summer under the direction of the state tax commission. It was disclosed the re-assessment will cost the county an estimated $20,000.

Regarding an individual company re-assessment program, Joe Ellis, Charleston, a field representative of the tax commission, said it cost Randolph County $85,000 for a private firm.

The county court appealed to cities and towns to share the cost of equalization. The request, which is not mandatory, calls for municipalities to pay 10 cents per person living within the city limits.

The city representatives at the meeting, agreed their respective towns would probably submit to the cost. Regarding cost, an example would be if Sikeston has 16,000 residents, its payment would be $1,600.

Sikeston City Manager W. Raymont Miller told the county court judges he believes they are "on the right track" regarding the equalization and he gave assurance that Sikeston would cooperate.

The county court asked city officials to get approval from councils as soon as possible and forward the information to County Clerk Phil Waldman.

Ellis said the most costly part of equalization would be hiring a qualified person to determine the top acre of farm land in the county from which to create five grades of land. Buildings on farm property also will be re-assessed.

Ellis said schools are cooperating in supplying student manpower to measure homes in town. After this is completed, agents of the commission will come in and determine details. Contractors will be contacted to establish value grades for homes, such as $4 per square foot.

Ellis said homes can be depreciated up to 75 per cent depending on how old the dwelling is.

After the equalization is complete, property owners will have 30 days to go to the court house and study all assessments.

Presiding Judge H. D. Rodgers said 75 per cent of the people are "interested in their neighbor's assessment" and he said the greatest number of complaints stem from this.

At the end of 30 days members of the state tax commission will be in Benton to hear appeals.

Judge J. E. Childress said the equalization would be made even if the cities do not share the cost with the county by paying 10 cents per person.

Ellis predicted the program could be initiated June 1 and completed the second week in August.

This summer the tax commission ordered the county court to raise assessments by $7 million in order to come near the prescribed 30 per cent level.

Ellis said yesterday the purpose of equalization is to place all property values at 30 per cent.

Driver's Lip Cut in Mishap

A 1968 Chrysler, driven by William Ward, 29, Murphysboro, Ill., ran off the route AD Friday at 8 p.m. two miles west of Gray Ridge and across a ditch.

The adjustments are offered for Northwest, American, United, Western, Trans World, Braniff, Eastern, Continental, Delta, Northwest and National.

The CAB in effect left the nine local service airlines—Air West, Allegheny, Frontier, Mohawk, North Central, Ozark, Piedmont, Southern and Texas International—out of the fare increase bracket.

The board estimates Northwest would receive the greatest benefit, a 7.78 per cent increase, while National would get the least benefit, a boost of 1.68 per cent.

All trunk airlines taking advantage of the new formula must file their proposals at least 14 days in advance of their effective date.

Vancil Wins Award For Conservation

HOLCOMB — Jack Vancil of route one, Campbell, was given the award as the Outstanding Conservation Farmer of 1969.

The award was presented at the 20th anniversary of the Dunklin County Soil and Water Conservation District, at its annual meeting last night at the school cafeteria attended by 100.

The plaque was presented to Vancil by H. B. Maddox of Campbell, treasurer of the district board.

"Each year the Dunklin County Soil and Water Conservation District recognizes its outstanding conservation farmer," Maddox said. "The committee chose one who may have gotten started a little later than others, but one who is making rapid progress."

"This past year more than 165 acres were leveled to grade, by Vancil and his two sons, they moved more than 90,000 cubic yards of earth and established about 35 acres of new pasture. His farming program is so arranged that when they are not busy in the regular farming operations they are improving another piece of land," Maddox said.

Speaker for the meeting was Harold Ensley, KCMO radio and TV personality, from Kansas City.

The welcome address was given by James Dement, president of the Holcomb Kiwanis club. This was followed by introductions by Earl Bramlett of Cardwell, chairman of the district board.

Troop Pullback Weighed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon weighing a decision on future U.S. troop pullbacks from Vietnam and new moves to end the war, was at his Camp David retreat with some of his closest advisers today.

Henry A. Kissinger, the President's chief national security affairs authority, was among those who accompanied Nixon to the nearby mountain hideaway.

White House sources said the chief executive would be making public statements on Vietnam, but declined to specify when. They doubted the Southeast Asian conflict would be a central item in his speech to the U.N. General Assembly next Thursday.

In addition to the Vietnam problem, Nixon had domestic issues on his mind at Camp David. It was announced he would go over "legislative priorities" with Bryce N. Harlow, assistant for congressional relations; John D. Ehrlichman, presidential counsel, and assistant H. R. Haldeman. Nixon meets Tuesday with Republican leaders in Congress.

Nixon left Washington Friday after a major review of the Vietnam situation with top U.S. officials from Washington, Saigon and Paris. The President planned to return to his capital this afternoon.

The possibility of another round of U.S. force withdrawals, beyond the 25,000-man pullback announced last June, and of opportunities toward a peaceful solution that might open up following the death of North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh, were discussed at the broadcast live Friday.

As the 37th session for the administration's top strategists was ending, the White House disclosed that Nixon had ordered a 24-hour halt in B-52 bombings over South Vietnam.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler portrayed the bombing pause as an effort to determine whether Hanoi intended to hold down offensives following its proclaimed 72-hour cease-fire honoring Ho. Nixon ordered the giant bombers back into action after the enemy attacks returned to the level of before the cease-fire, the spokesman said.

The White House announcement of the brief halt in B-52 raids left several questions unanswered, and administration spokesmen at the White House, State Department and the Pentagon were continuing their silence about circumstances surrounding the presidential action.

Ziegler sought at one point to answer a newsmen's question as to why the B-52s resumed bombing after the cease-fire ended. "Ten" hours later started the 19-day halt ordered by the President.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS! JUST ANOTHER SMALL BUSINESSMAN

How would you like to start a small business? Would you be interested in a $135,000 loan with a $15,000 personal stake to buy a $150,000 automobile dealership? Try the Small Business Administration of the federal government. It has the money, and its yours to begin with since it comes from the taxes you pay. The government guarantees payment of the loan and a local bank puts up the money.

This is one of our government's methods of helping the needy small businessman get his foot in the door and build a small business of his own. It is a worthwhile project on the whole. We need more small businesses to spread the wealth of the nation to all who can make it in the field of business. Very few people really mind helping a man in need of a little capital to get a start.

In the case of the $135,000 loan, you must be a member of a minority group to qualify. If you are not so qualified, the collateral and equity you are required to furnish might be up to 50% of the total amount of the loan. But as a member of a minority race you put up about 15% and, as in the instance above, this may be lowered or waived.

The government - guaranteed $135,000 loan did go to a good risk, however, even though two banks had refused the applicant's previous requests for the money. He is currently employed at a salary of $85,000 and must be a fairly good businessman since he already owns a share of a chicken franchise firm and a florist shop. The loan recipient is St. Louis Cardinal baseball player, Lou Brock, who said he thought that his loan request was being handled in the conventional manner. He has also said that he did not know the loan was being guaranteed under the privileged minority program.

We wonder how many more loans fall into this pattern? How many other $85,000-a-year men are "starting out" in business with the taxpayer as co-signer on their loans? Maybe it's time someone found out. Where are the congressional watchdogs?

QUARRELL OVER OCCUPATIONAL HAZARDS
Powerful business interests are prepared to lobby against occupational safety legislation coming to the attention of Congress this month. What is expected is a repetition of the assault that bottled up the Johnson administration's proposals in the House Rules Committee last year.

The House Select Subcommittee on Labor begins hearings Tuesday, Sept. 16, on proposals by President Nixon (HR 13373) to establish an occupational health and safety board empowered to set standards to protect workers. The Senate Labor subcommittee is slated to hear later this month both the administration's plan (S 2788) and a measure which has the endorsement of the AFL-CIO as "much stronger" than the Nixon bill. The latter proposal (S 2193, HR 3809) was introduced by Sen. Harrison A. Williams, Jr. (D N. J.), who heads the Senate subcommittee, and Rep. James G. O'Hara (D Mich.).

President Nixon on Aug. 6 in his message on safety standards told the Congress: "It is interesting to note that in the last five years, the number of man-days lost because of work-related injuries has been 10 times the number lost because of strikes." Some 250 million man-days of work are lost to accidents each year.

In 1968, W. Willard Wirtz, then Secretary of Labor, gave this rundown: each year 14,500 workers are killed on the job; more than 2.2 million workers suffer disabling injuries; some $1.5 billion in wages is lost annually; the economy loses nearly $7 billion. The prospect for another tough fight in Senate and House committees is clear. Legislation may not come until the next session, if then.

"MADE IN JAPAN" PROBLEMS
Five Japanese officials arrive in Washington on Monday, Sept. 15, to learn whether the "Made in Japan" label on textiles is as maddening to congressmen as Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans portrayed it during his recent Tokyo mission. Stans left Tokyo in July without convincing the Japanese government that it should decrease textile exports to the United States.

He hinted broadly that its refusal would spur Congress to enact protectionist trade barriers. So far that hasn't happened. The protectionist movement may have reached its zenith last year when hundreds of bills were introduced to impose import quotas but none became law. Despite pressures in Congress, there is understanding in government that America's sagging international balance of trade might be hurt rather than helped by quotas. They tend to invite retaliation.

The Nixon administration has given lip service both to free trade and to relief for the domestic textile industry, but it seems unsure which deserves priority. On the one hand, Nixon's special representative on trade matters, Carl J. Gilbert, is a free-trade advocate. On the other hand, Stans is sympathetic to domestic industry. He has cited Labor Department studies indicating a loss of 100,000 jobs a year in textiles if present import trends continue. Quotas already apply to cotton, textiles (under terms of a 30-nation agreement) but not to wools and synthetic fibers. One-fourth of all wool textiles sold on the American market last year were imported.

Friendship is terrible overworked.

Meredith Lee says: "The man who never makes a kick shouldn't get the worst of it, but he usually does."

Well, within recent months I've seen a bride (and the bride's mother and the bridesmaids) all attired in miniskirts - one of the grandfathers observed that all the material combined in the distaff side costumery wouldn't be enough to flag a handcar. At least it wasn't necessary to have an attendant to sweep the bride's train out of the way so the minister, or father of the bride, or the bride herself, wouldn't trip on 40 yards of tulle or voile or whatever that stuff is.

With train or without, you can see in the bride's eyes that this is her moment of triumph, and the only tears shed at a wedding these days are those of the bride's father, as he contemplates the tab for flowers, candles, raiment to be worn only once, and the discomfort of his headwaiter uniform. Somehow a black bow tie never set right at his throat.

Probably nothing causes more dissension in a family than the question of the proper hour for going to bed. The parents think nine or ten o'clock is late enough, and the young people stand up for the right to stay out later. It is a subject fussed over at supper, and grumbled over at breakfast, and probably will continue to be a matter of dissension as long as tastes of the young and old differ.

Lee McDougal says: "Nothing will make a man brace up, and throw the years off his shoulders, as quickly as to hear that some pretty girl thinks he is nice."

In the opinion of the U. S. attorney for the Northern District of California, campus violence should be reduced if universities will use the disciplinary tools they have at hand - ranging from reprimand to suspension and expulsion.

MODEST
A tailor who had rented a new shop in a fashionable section of Chicago took a friend to see it. As they approached it, they passed a tailor's shop with this sign over the door: HERE IS THE BEST TAILOR IN CHICAGO. Then they came to one with this printed sign in his window: THE BEST TAILOR IN THE WORLD.

"What are you going to do about it?" asked the friend.
"This," said the tailor, and produced a card reading: THE BEST TAILOR ON THIS STREET.

TIMELY
When the late Frank Allen was Lieutenant-Governor of Massachusetts, he visited Calvin Coolidge at the White House and said to the President.
"When you were Lieutenant-Governor, I noticed that you always finished your day's work at exactly five o'clock. I have about the same amount of work, but I never get through until nine. Why is it that you finished at five and I cannot?"
Coolidge explained: "You talk back."

THANKS FOR THE MEMORY
A minister married a wealthy couple and after the ceremony, instead of the customary payment, was presented with a pair of yellow kid gloves. He accepted them graciously and upon returning home tucked them away in a drawer. Years later, rummaging through the drawer, he came upon the gloves. Absent-mindedly, he tried one on - and discovered a $10 bill neatly folded in each finger.

Science is resourceful. It couldn't open a day-coach window, so it air-conditioned the train.

Albert Hubbard, philosopher

Bureaucracy, coffee breaks have been growing increasingly longer until in some government offices the time off almost equals the working hours.

But Rep. Mark Andrews, R-N.D., who keeps a sharp watch on such things, thought a general accounting office supervisor had gone too far when he enhanced his $11,000 salary by selling hot coffee, cookies and crackers to fellow employees at a desk all day long.

An outraged Andrews raised the report at a house appropriations hearing.
"Do you deny the charges?" demanded Andrews of Elmer Staats, Boss of the GAO.
"We deny the charges," replied Staats. "I think you will find it almost a universal practice in and out of Government for Management to provide some kind of arrangement for employees during the day, coffee or coke or something like that."

"The coffee break," added Herschel Simmons, another GAO official, resignedly, "seems to be a way of life now. If you criticize it, you catch it from all sides."

-WORD FROM WOMEN-
A House Appropriations subcommittee became so perturbed by the problems of the House restaurant that it put out an S.O.S. the other day for female advice from the wives of three Democratic Congressmen.
One of them, Mrs. Lee Hamilton, wife of the Indiana Democrat, suggested that the restaurant management give more attention to the "cholesterol problem". She pointed out that cholesterol, combined with the stresses of political life, could lead to heart trouble.

"The choice of foods and the manner in which they are prepared is terribly important," she volunteered. "The Congressional Streamliner (a dietary lunch) is now on the menu and has been very popular."

(1856-1915): "I try to fix my thought on the good that is in every soul, and make my appeal to that, and the plan is a wise one, judged by results. It secures for you loyal helpers, worthy friends; gets the work done, aids digestion, and tends to sleep o' nights. I do not believe in governing by force or threat, or any other form of coercion. I would not arouse in the heart of any God's creatures a thought of fear, or discord, or hate, or revenge. I will influence men, if I can, but only by aiding them."

Man on the Street: "In a country where a newsboy becomes a banker, a bootblack rises to riches, a black man born to slavery is set free-in a country where a printer becomes President of a nation; in a country where a poor man with a dinner pail on his arm is respected equally with the man in the limousine; in a country where education is free, religion unhampered, and where every man and woman has equal rights -- is there any reason for introduction a new form of government?"

Henry Ward Beecher, American Lecturer (1813-86): "No man can tell whether he is rich or poor by turning to his ledger. It is the heart that makes a man rich. Rich according to what he is, not what he has."

No one is any better than you, but you are no better than anyone else until you do something to prove it.

The ice man propositioned the lady, who was afraid she might have a baby, so he said, "Let's do it standing up. That way you can't get caught."

So he backed her up to the door and went to town. When they finished he noted the lady was still wriggling and writhing against the door.

"What's the matter, babe, didn't I satisfy you?"
"Oh, yes," she replied, "It was sure wonderful - but I just can't get the door knob out!"

FASHION HIGHLIGHT:
Belts have never been as important as they are today, reports the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear. Bold, big buckles and bright patent leathers highlight the new offerings. There are sweaters, shirts and outer jackets that come equipped with belt loops. Belted or half-belted suits and jackets have already had good acceptance.

ANARCHY IS JUST FOR TODAY
BY JENKIN LLOYD JONES
ON Aug. 27 the board of directors of the national college fraternity, Phi Gamma Delta, unanimously passed the following resolution:

"WHEREAS, this fraternity views with strong disapproval the tendency of some colleges and universities to acquiesce in a general lowering of standards of conduct among their students; and
"WHEREAS, the affirmative action of some college and university administrators in approving the use of intoxicants on the campus, abolishing curfew time for women students, permitting visitations by members of the opposite sex in sleeping rooms and condoning the use of narcotics results in the destruction of morals; and
"WHEREAS, some of these same administrators have allowed anarchy to prevail on the campus to the irreparable loss and damage to the college or university and the majority of the students;

"NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that this fraternity calls upon these administrations to recognize that morals are not out of date, but that they are basic standards of human conduct, divinely inspired to promote the dignity of man and the sanctity of the family relationship."
Square? Sure. Thirty years ago who would have thought college fraternities would be looked upon as square?

But that was before the age of swinging professors and militants bearing guns. It was before the idea that the administration should serve as servants to ad hoc committees and the theory that pot and casual sex were extensions of the Bill of Rights. In contrast to this high trapeze work, the average college fraternity swings low.

The Phi Gamma Delta directors have put their fingers on a truth. A college that succumbs to the bullying of the loud, the violent and the ignorant gets out of the education business. And the education of students, who come to not to confront the pigs but to learn a lot of pretty complicated stuff in a very short time, are robbed of the promise of the catalog.

The college that is bluffed out of laying down reasonable rules of conduct peddles the idea that at the animal level of behavior there is happiness, its new Hitler.

fulfillment and a flowering of the personality. If so, the court of Caligula was the golden age of Rome and the alleys off the Ginza represent the acme of Japanese civilization.

You've got to have rules-even if you are bent on revolution.
For most interesting is the discovery by the New Left, itself, that anarchy doesn't work.

The September issue of Ramparts magazine, the voice of what is hopefully described as a Third World (something about communism with complete humanity), carries an article about this summer's riotous convention of the Students for a Democratic Society at the Chicago Coliseum.

The writer, Paul Glusman, a Berkeley SDS activist, sadly described the three days of splits, secessions, excommunications and walk-outs.

According to Glusman, the Progressive Labor Party had been infiltrating the SDS and planned to seize the convention. Alarmed, the SDS National Office formed something called the Revolutionary Youth Movement to give PL battle.

At the Chicago affair, PL sympathizers kept drawing off SDS speakers by chanting "Mao, Mao, Mao Tee-tung!" Whereupon RYM shouters bawled "Ho Ho Chi Minh, Dare to Struggle, Dare to Win!"

Psychiatry Is NOT The Only Answer, But May Be The Best Answer

Dear Ann Landers: Most of us here at Governor Dummer Academy in Byfield, Mass., think you are pretty. Every time somebody writes to you with a problem you tell them to go see a shrink. Such advice can really shake up a person. They get to thinking they are crazy and this can make a person pretty nervous.

If psychiatry is the answer to everything how come people go along without it for so many years? How about kicking this one around in your column, Granny? - The Govies

Dear Govies: The early settlers drained off a lot of their hostility and anger just trying to stay alive. They hunted animals for food, built shelter in a wilderness, fought Indians and made their own clothes and shoes and soap and candles. And don't forget, chum, there were fewer people around in those days. Life was not so nerve-racking and competitive. Even so, there was emotional illness - it just wasn't recognized as such.

Emotionally disturbed people were thought to be "possessed by the devil." They were often tortured in an attempt to rid their bodies of the evil spirits. I think the couch is better, don't you?

Dear Ann Landers: When I was 14 I hated you. Now that I am 20 I can look back and see where you were right and I was wrong.

I remember the argument I had with my parents on my 14th birthday. I announced that Jim and I were going steady. My mother handed me a column you had written against going steady and I got mad and tore it up.

Just to prove my parents were wrong I went steady with Jim for five years. One day I realized he was boring me to death and I just couldn't spend the rest of my life with him. The breakup was easier than I thought it would be because we had a frank talk and it turned out that Jim was just as bored with me as I was with him.

Imagine my surprise when I discovered I didn't know one boy to date. I had been "Jim's property" for so long I was completely out of it. What was worse, I had no girl friends who could help me because I'd spent all my time with Jim.

It took six months to get back into circulation but now I'm dating several fellows and discovering the world for the first time. I could kick myself for having wasted all those wonderful years.

The older I get, the better you look, Ann. Stay with it! - Awake At Last

Dear Ann Landers: Actually you're the one who is looking better. Congratulations.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband took our 1963 Thunderbird into a service station and it cost him $120 for three hours' work. The station manager said it needed new ball joints and new idler arms before they could align the wheels.

The next day the noise came back so my husband took the car in again. The man said it needed a new shock. All the other stuff was unnecessary. How can the public be protected against such gyps! - Rockford, Ill.

Dear Ill: The best place to take a car for repairs is to the dealer who sells that make. I'm glad to report that congress is in the process of investigating the auto repair gyps and hopefully their days are numbered.

Do you feel ill at ease... out of it? Is everybody having a good time but you? Write for Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key To Popularity," enclosing with your request 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

The POWER of FAITH BY WOODIE ISHMAEL

The teaching and example of a devout Christian mother is a most important ingredient in making a boy into a fine man - and sometimes a great man or a hero. Mrs. Effie Jackson of Newnan, Ga., knows the rewards of being such a mother.

Widowed in 1935, she raised seven boys into fine men. But it was her youngest, Joe, who became a national hero. She had taught him dedication to duty, selfless service and the golden rule.

On May 12, 1968, Lt. Col. Joe Jackson's power of faith shone through as he landed his unarmed C123 transport aircraft in a rain of rockets and mortar fire on an enemy-overrun special forces camp in Kham Duc, Vietnam. His mission was to rescue the three remaining survivors of the camp.

At great risk and possible loss of his own life, Lt. Col. Jackson saved the lives of the three men, and is the latest Air Force recipient of the nation's highest award, The Medal of Honor. But that honor also goes to Mrs. Effie Jackson, whose faith in God and prayers gave Joe his singleminded dedication and courage.

Sikeston Fails First Test, 31-14

Power running by Robert Mayfield and Van Pitman ignited a second half surge that lifted Mayfield, Ky. to its second straight win of the season as it topped Sikeston 31-14 at Public School Stadium in the Bulldogs season opener last night.

Mayfield and Pitman staged a second half show that produced 24 points that wiped out 7-7 half time deadlock and set Sikeston back 0-2 in the series between the two schools.

Coach Jack Morris' talented crew emerged from a halftime discussion with a fired up offense that drove 62 yards in six plays for a tie breaking score with Mayfield picking up 41 yards in two carries that set up quarterback David Fowler's one yard plunge.

Mayfield scored on a nine yard run by Pitman in the first quarter with Randy Rains converting for a 7-0 lead.

Sikeston, with Ed Troop passing for 41 yards on a drive, scored from one yard out with Jerry Taylor adding the tying point on the PAT conversion.

Pitman scampered 18 yards for a 19-7 Mayfield lead in the third quarter before Troop pitched to Mike Shafer for a 14-yard TD. Taylor's PAT conversion put the Dogs within five points, 19-4.

But failing to capitalizing on Cardinal miscues, the Bulldogs little action last season as the turned over the ball twice deep signal barker as he was in Mayfield territory to watch competing against all them march down field for conference back, Bruce Farris, fourth quarter TD's.

Fowler put the Cardinals ahead 25-14 with a two yard Throwing off balance and on score early in the fourth before the run, the veteran halfback Pitman dove over from one yard maneuvered his receivers where out for the final score. The play they are in position for his long was set up on Fowler's 30 yard and short spurts. He consistently hit rookie senior, Larry Sikeston's defense was Lawrence over the middle for impressive throughout the first his short yardage and proved half but seemed to have stalled that he could heave the bomb if after the intermission, allowing Mayfield to roll up 182 yards in rushing after checking them to 69 through the first two quarters.

The Bulldogs unleashed an attack here last night against the powerful Mayfield Cardinals that more or less stunned the curious onlookers.

Sikeston was the predicted underdog for the battle as the statistics showed but a devastating aerial game from Coach Bill Friday's ranks was the deciding factor that set the Cardinals back in the opening half and just allowed the birds to seven points and a halftime tie.

Eddie Troop, a 170 pound senior passed for a total of 67 yards in the first half which tallied a completion record of 7 for 10 in his debut at the quarterback controls. Troop saw

MIKE SHAFER (dark jersey) hauls in a Ed Troop pass for a score in the third quarter of last night's game at Public School Stadium. The play covered 14 yards and put the Bulldogs within six points of the Mayfield Cardinals. Mayfield added a pair of fourth period scores for a 31-14 win.

Moss, Mules Score Chaffee Wins South Battle Jays Beat Indians

POPLAR BLUFF - Using a touted defense and the running of Hossie Moss, the Poplar Bluff Mules opened their grid campaign last night with a 20-0 non-league win over Springfield Glendale.

Moss ran for two touchdowns, both in the final quarter, jaunting 34 yards for the first and then shot in from 13 yards out after teammate Eddie Ray Robinson got the team on the board with a recovered blocked punt in the second quarter.

Quarterback Ken Link pitched to Mark Richardson for a two point conversion in the final period.

Glendale bested the Mules in the opener last season 13-0 after Poplar Bluff took a 41-0 victory in the series opener in 1967.

The Mules host the Kennett Indians in an Northern Division league game next week.

CHAFFEE - Coach Gary Glenzy's Red Devils came from behind late in the second quarter here last night to defeat the Portageville Bulldogs 12-7 in a crucial Southern Division League encounter.

Coach Glenzy's devils jumped early in the opening quarter to unhinge on the dogs for a 42 yard run around end by Bill Daughtery before quarterback, Charlie Vickery, plunged into the line for a one yard score. Portageville came storming back just minutes after the second period had begun and unleashed an attack that ended in a one yard sneak by Mike Barnes and the extra point that put the Dogs ahead 7-6.

Chaffee came off the rebound before the half ended to send Steve Rogers around end for a grass buring 58 yard run, that set the Red Devils up for their first victory of the season.

Chaffee will travel to Ilmo-Scott City next Friday night to gangle with the independent league Rams as Portageville will again be the host playing the Dexter Bearcats in their second conference loop game.

Malden's Clayton Runs For 30 Points

MALDEN - Don Clayton got a big jump toward repeating and defending his scoring title of a year ago as the Malden Green Wave opened their season with a 42-7 victory over Kennett with Clayton running for 30 points, including four TD's and eight extra points.

Coach Jack Phillips was overjoyed with his backfield performance that had Clayton, Ron Hamlett and Steve Barber running for 147, 136 and 137 yards respectively.

The big Green got off with 14 points in the first quarter as Hamlett drove in from 10 yards out and darted 55 yards for scores with Clayton running the extra point.

Clayton scored eight points in the second period, slipping in from 20 yards and running for the two-point conversion.

Kennett made it 22-7 at intermission as the Indians tight end caught a pass for a score.

Clayton scored twice in the third quarter and ran for a two-point conversion and ended the evening with a fourth quarter score and two-point conversion.

Malden goes to Jackson for a non-league game next Friday.

Bearcats Serve Notice

DEXTER - Dexter's grid Bearcats served notice on Southern Conference foes that they must be reckoned with in this year's title chase as they rallied behind a suddenly meshing titanic defensive to overcome a first quarter 7-0 deficit and go on to record a 28-7 win over the Jackson Indians in their season's opener, as a sparse crowd of some 1,000 looked on.

Coach Clyde Vaughn termed the win a "team effort" and such it was, even though hard running halfback Bruce Hindman authored a pair touchdowns on 69 and 38 yard treks and quarterback Gary Trammell drove 10 yards for another, before the second team took over. Alan Rendelman, who paired with John Robinson to render the Indian offensive impotent on defense, scampered 30 yards in the final minute for the Bearcats final tally.

Jackson scored first on what was a tainted triple block affair that saw no penalty enacted, since the official covering that portion of the play was himself immobilized by a clip and lay aground as the fleeing halfback Mike Myer traversed 32 yards for the score, aided by the illegal blocking. Ron Barks kicked the point after and Jackson, reportedly strong on defense, seemed away and winging.

The Indian defensive stopped a Bearcat drive at the Indian 11 in the second quarter but Larry Baker split the uprights with a three pointer for a 3-7 trial.

The go ahead 'Cat talley came as Dexter, imbued with an offensive spirit after their defensive unit had twice stopped Jackson drives, sent Lindman on his 60-yard cutback touchdown sprint and Baker converted for a 10-7 advantage. Rick Barber had intercepted a desperation Walker pass to gain possession at the Dexter 34.

Paul Richey recovered a errant Walter miscue at the Jackson 34 and Rendelman and Barber exploded twice to the 10, from which point Trammell skirted left

Gotto Scores 10 In Pirate Opener

PERRYVILLE - Missouri's pass from quarterback Gary Perryville gets into conference action next week as it travels to Sikeston for a Northern Division battle.

The Pirates won this game last season and ended in a tie with Cape and Sikeston for the league championship after losing to Cape late in the season.

Perryville got the home team on a 10 point evening. Coach Terry Smith's Pirates used a long run and a pass in the in the fourth period for scores. First half for scores, as Kirk Gotto added the extra points for Frenzlet got the home team on a 10 point evening.

Eagles Take Opener, 18-0

SCOTT CITY - Returning an opening second half kickoff that broke a scoreless barrier that prolonged throughout the first half, the visiting East Prairie Eagles crashed through the ISC defense for a 14-0 opening victory.

Stewart Baine, a 150 pound junior halfback, proved to be the workhorse for the birds as he capitalized on the only two scores of the game for a total of 122 yards a what was the third score late in the final quarter but was called because of a clipping penalty.

His first tally came from the opening kickoff in the second half for a 65 yard run which set the Rams back on their heels. Quarterback, Robert Faulkoff, let loose with one of his 12 completions for a 50 yard fling to Baine for his other score which proved to be ample points to capture the victory.

East Prairie ran and passed all night against the somewhat weak defense of the Rams for 238 total yards and allowed a mere 22 yards to be pushed against them.

The Eagles will play hot to powerful Chaffee eleven next week as Scott City travels to Gideon.

Absorbing Novel Is Funny And Fast-Paced

THE CENTER OF THE ACTION. By Jerome Weidman. Random House. $6.95.

Summer is a time when good fiction grows scarce, and book reviewers compete for what little is available.

Weidman's new novel is good fiction - well-written, well-plotted, fast-paced, and funny. A solid job by a first-class professional.

The book details the life and times of Ted Leff, a very smart New York type who wants to get out of the Seventh Avenue garment district and up, and away - in this case to the publishing world of Fourth Avenue.

Ted's a lot like the hard-runners of other novels, but with a difference - he's funny. He's also conniving and avaricious. But his sense of humor - or rather his method of observing the world about him and commenting upon it - saves this from being another novel about the poor but smart guy, who wants the world and is willing to do just about anything to get it.

PRESCRIPTION PRICES

How are prescription prices determined? We have a policy in this matter, the only one we can follow. We do not offer bargains in prescriptions - there is no cut-rate way to health. Nor do we pretend to under-sell. Prescription prices simply are determined by the cost of the ingredients and operating expense. The prices we charge are as low as satisfactory service and effective drugs will allow.

COLUMBIA - Price-support loan availability and maturity dates have advanced one month for 1969-crop soybeans in order to improve the harvest time storage and marketing situation for producers, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced. A support price of $2.28 is set up for the Botheel area.

As a result, the final price-support availability date for 1969-crop soybeans will be May 31, 1970. The loan maturity date and the final date for producers to give notice of intent to sell soybeans to Commodity Credit Corporation will be June 30, 1970. These dates are one month earlier than for 1963 and subsequent crop years. For prior crop years, the dates were the same as the ones announced today for the 1969 crop.

With soybean harvesting coming earlier each year, the handling of price-support soybeans following the loan maturity date has increasingly extended into the new crop marketing period. This has seriously interfered with storage availability to producers for new crop soybeans. The change will help solve this difficulty by clearing CCC soybeans out of warehouses earlier, thus freeing space for the new crop. It will also extend transportation needs for soybeans over a longer period and lessen the demand for cars for old crop use during harvest.

USDA officials noted that soybeans and corn have had identical price-support dates even though the soybean marketing year was changed in 1965 to a month earlier on September 1 in recognition of earlier harvesting. Today's change will set the price-support dates for both crops at the same time interval from the beginning of the marketing years.

Farmers Head for Record Crop Year Despite Some Drought

WASHINGTON (AP) - million bushels harvested in 1967, the previous top year. Farmers are headed for another record crop year despite dry weather in some areas and government efforts to cut back production of wheat and livestock feedgrains.

The Agriculture Department said Wednesday that its production index for all crops dropped one point in August but still was 20 per cent more than the 1957-59 average.

Crop Reporting Board officials said the Sept. 1 index was 120 per cent, compared with the previous high of 119 last year and 121 per cent forecast last month.

Corn production was estimated at 4.3 billion bushels, up slightly from August and 1 per cent less than 1968 output. The record crop was 4.8 billion bushels in 1967.

Prospects for sorghum grain - considered second to corn as a livestock feed-jumped 1 per cent during the month to an expected record of 758 million bushels.

This would mean a crop 3 per cent larger than last year and slightly more than the 756 million bushels harvested in 1967, the previous top year. Sorghum yields were predicted to average 55.3 bushels an acre, compared with the previous high of 56.1 bushels in 1966.

Officials said, however, the sorghum grain outlook depended largely on whether the late crop in Kansas and Nebraska remained free of frost through September.

Revised estimates also showed all wheat production this year at 1.5 billion bushels, about two million fewer than indicated in August and 7 per cent less than the record 1.6 billion bushels produced last year.

Acres of corn and sorghum grain expected for harvest this fall totaled about 2 per cent less than last year, and the wheat acreage was down 14 per cent, largely because of government control programs calling for reduced production.

The September report also estimated soybean production at about 1.1 billion bushels, down

1 per cent from August and 2 per cent less than last year's record crop. Oats were estimated at 938 million bushels, a 4 per cent drop from August but 1 per cent more than last year and the largest production since 1963.

Barley output was forecast at 416 million bushels, an increase of 11 million from August and about equal to last year's production.

The estimated yield per acre and production, respectively, of important crops by major producing states included:

Corn for grain - Missouri 69 bushels per acre and production of 191,889,000; Kansas 77 and 90,783,000.

Winter wheat - Missouri 30 bushels per acre and production of 31,440,000; Kansas 31.5 and 304,070,000.

Soybeans - Missouri 23 bushels per acre and production 78,522,000; Kansas 23 and 22,011,000.

Sugar beets - Kansas 16.5 tons per acre and production 769,000.

Corn Support

Rates Announced

CHICAGO - Basic county price-support loan and purchase rate for 1969-crop corn have been announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture with a $1.14 price for the Botheel area.

The rates are based on a national average loan level of $1.05 per bushel announced December 26, 1968. The county rates can vary throughout the nation because of some historic differences in prices between locations.

Variations in local prices are caused by such factors as changing trends in production and utilization, transportation costs and others. A review of these factors and of local operations of the price support program is made each year prior to establishing the county loan rates.

No changes are made in the county loan rates in major corn producing areas from those in effect of 1968. In some other producing areas, downward adjustments were made in the loan rates to more nearly reflect local cash price relationships. In order to improve relationships in these areas a reduction of 1 to 2 cents in the loan value was made in all Eastern and Southeastern States, and from 1 to 5 cents in a few limited areas in the Southwest where loan rates exceeded the level of cash prices.

The changes were made in these areas without necessitating an overall adjustment to attain the national average level of support.

The Department also announced that the schedule of premiums and discounts for 1969-crop corn will be unchanged from those in effect for the past several years.

Q. Where does the Highway Department get its money?
A. The principal sources of highway revenue come from motor vehicle fuel taxes, license fees and the biggest single revenue producer is the motor vehicle fuel tax. At five cents a gallon, it's the lowest in the nation.

Q. Who sets the speed limits on our highways? Over in Kansas you can drive 80 miles an hour and 75 miles in other places.
A. The State Legislature sets speed limits on all state highways outside of corporate city limits. Missouri's 70 miles an hour limit is covered by statute and has been subject to change in recent sessions of the General Assembly. This past session saw an 80 miles an hour bill defeated in committee.

Q. Some of our roadways are dirty and full of litter. What are we doing about it?
A. Litter has always been a major problem, not only for Missouri but for all states. Last year the Missouri Highway Department spent nearly $400,000 to clean up roadside litter. This is a waste of tax money that people could avoid simply by putting trash where it belongs -- in a trash basket or barrel.

Q. What's the status of Missouri's Interstate system?
A. Missouri has an approved Interstate system of highways totaling 1,147 miles. As of August 15, 1969, Missouri has completed and opened to traffic 707 of these miles. Another 60 miles are under contract and are expected to be up to full Interstate standards and opened to traffic by December 31 of this year. Still another 73 miles are under contract but will not be completed by December 31. Missouri has an additional 77 miles of dual lane facility in use.

Q. How much highway work but they are not up to full Interstate standards. Also, Highway Department had 403 active construction projects throughout the state with a total spent on its Interstate system so value for this uncompleted work far amounting to $241,466,239.

Q. How much money does the Highway Department spend each year?
A. Last year the Missouri State Highway Commission announced a record program (covering the period July 1, 1968 through June 30, 1969) totaling $283,063,720. Also, the Department spent $44,424,093 just to maintain state highways.

Q. How many miles does Missouri have?
A. Missouri has in its state highway system a total of 31,697.2 miles. This is broken down into Interstate system highways totaling 750.7 miles; Primary system routes totaling 6,982.6 miles; and Supplemental (Farm-to-Market) system roads totaling 23,963.8 miles. In addition, within the state of Missouri, there are 69,156.2 miles of county roads and 12,956.7 miles of city streets and alleys.

Weekly meeting will be held each Monday following school. The East Prairie radio station, KYMO, will broadcast live from the Falkoff Department store each Monday and Wednesday afternoon at 4 p.m., all high school activities, with Mary Jo Barnhill reporting.

Miss Melinda Munson, president of the high school student council, presided over the council meeting Tuesday night. An election for Student council officers, with the exception of President Munson and Vice-President Janie Simpkins, who were elected last year, was held. Officers elected were: Recording Secretary, Annetta Davenport; Corresponding Secretary, Carla Howard; Parliamentarian Jimmy Davis; and Sergeant-at-Arms, Dwight Struggs.

The standing committee chairmen announced were Calendar Chairman, Annetta Davenport; Activities Chairman Melissa Reeves and Tommie Ann Britt; Election Chairman Deb Woodcock and Sharon Bard; and Safety Chairmen, Randy Johnson and Stuart Bain.

Vice president Janie Simpkins, who also serves as homecoming chairman, announced the date for the homecoming this year, Oct. 10, when the East Prairie Eagles will meet the Dexter Bearcats.

Committees were appointed to work on plans for the event. A theme was discussed but no decision was made.

"Freshmen, We Know How It Is" was the theme for the FHA first monthly meeting Monday night. Introduction of officers for the year was the first order of business. Officers are President Annetta Davenport; first Vice president Rachael

Henry Ford II, Ford Motor Co., board chairman, said a staff of executives was at work today considering the competitive impact of the GM warranty. Ford previously had announced a one year, unlimited mileage plan covering the entire car, including power train. GM's coverage for the entire car is for one year or 12,000 miles.

Ford, speaking at a news conference called after he announced he had fired Ford President Semon E. Knudsen, declined comment on prices. "We will have our answer next week," he said.

GM begins sales on Sept. 18, Ford the next day and Chrysler on Sept. 23. It was the first time in four years that GM had announced prices first.

Because of its tremendous sales volume it sells more cars than the other three automakers together—GM can operate on a lower per-car profit basis.

In announcing the price increases, GM Board Chairman James Roche cited payroll increases during the past year of 6 per cent, higher prices for metals and increases in state and local taxes.

The firm-supplied average price was an increase of 3.9 per cent over 1969 while the average increase of all models—$124.14—was an increase of 3.6 per cent from 1968 cars.

Skilled workers account for the largest share of outboard motor purchases, according to a boating club.

Also under contract and under construction are two sections totaling 9.1 miles in Jefferson County, connecting the completed north segment of I-55.

From Fruitland south I-55 is complete in Missouri to a point seven miles south of Portageville. There, on Monday, one side of new I-55 pavement was opened to two-way traffic for a distance of approximately 10 miles. At the same time, Highway 61 on this stretch was taken out of service for resurfacing. When completed it will become the southbound lane of I-55.

Completion of the resurfacing and opening of the Portageville-Hayti stretch of I-55 will leave only an approximately 13-mile stretch from Hayti south to be completed. I-55 is in service for about three miles from the Arkansas state line north.

Fruit Plentiful In Orchards

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—The apple, peach and grape crop in Missouri this year will be plentiful according to latest Missouri Crop and Livestock Reporting Service figures.

The peach crop is forecast at 21.5 million pounds, 20 per cent above last year.

Grape production is estimated at 4,000 tons, some 5 per cent above 1968 and 944 per cent above the previous year.

Production of corn is forecast at 191,889,000 bushels and the corn yield is estimated at 80 bushels an acre, down 10 bushels from the 1968 crop record yield of 90 bushels.

The soybean production is forecast at 78,522,000 bushels, down 22 per cent from 1968 figures and estimated yield per acre is 23 bushels, 5 bushels below the 1968 average yield per acre.

Life Ruled
Out on Mars

WASHINGTON (AP) — If we were to exist on Mars, it would be greatly different from Earth, a preliminary examination of Mariner 6 and 7 data indicates.

Space agency scientists said that evidence sent to Earth by the spacecraft when they flew past the planet July 30 and Aug. 5 shows the Martian atmosphere generally hostile to any earth-style life forms.

In a briefing on the results of the Mariner flybys, scientists reported ultraviolet measurements showed atomic hydrogen and atomic oxygen in the upper atmosphere. Carbon dioxide and carbon monoxide were present as expected.

But the initial study failed to reveal any evidence of nitrogen, scientists said.

"If additional intensive analysis substantiates this inclusion, a very key chemical compound is missing from the Martian environment," their report said. "If this is true, any chemistry on Mars will have to be very much different than we know on Earth."

Measurements with an infrared spectrometer aboard Mariner 6 showed temperature variations of as much as 75 degrees within a 60-by-60 mile area.

The data also shows there is local reflectivity of solar light, and makes clear the darker spots on Mars are warmer than the light areas.

Cotton Carnival
Dates Set

Cotton has long been king in Missouri's Bootheel. Sikeston will add five more members to the royal family at the 25th Annual Cotton Carnival Sept. 22-27.

Youngest members of the family, the Cotton Top King and Queen, will be the first crowned with final judging Sept. 24.

Sikeston's first Junior Miss will be announced Sept. 25.

James E. Schaffner, Jefferson City, state director of revenue, will crown Miss Sikeston Sept. 26.

Congressman Bill Burlison will present the Cotton Queen Sept. 27.

Other events scheduled are: Merchants' Day, Sept. 22 and 23; Kiddies Day, Sept. 24; Cotton Carnival Parade at 10 a.m. Sept. 27; Sing-Out Sikeston performance and Queen's ball, both on Sept. 27.

SHIRLEY ANN VAUGHN, 15, has been reported missing from her home in Charleston since Wednesday morning. The Mississippi county sheriff's office has issued an all points bulletin in an effort to locate her.

GREENHOUSE
PAUL FLOWERS

Oh! thus be it ever when freemen shall stand,

Between their lov'd home and the war's desolation!

Blest with vict'ry and peace, may the heav'n rescued land,

Praise the Power that hath made and preserved us a nation,

Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,

And this be our motto, "In God is our trust,"

And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave,

O'er the land of the free, and one and inseparable;

On those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity

be extraordinarily appropriate for which American patriots

times to fly the Star-Spangled banner, for the words of the fortunes.

and to spring from every throat; for every radio and every television station in the land to it; to support its constitution; to play it, not once, but several times on this anniversary.

For it was on the night separating Sept. 13 and 14, 1814, that Francis Scott Key was held aboard a British warship in the Baltimore harbor;

'twas at dawn on the morning of Sept. 14 that he saw the broad stripes and bright stars, so gallantly streaming through the rockets' red glare.

Chief Justice Roger Taney, a brother-in-law of Francis Scott Key, asked him about the writing, and reporter Key's reply:

"that he commenced it on the deck of the vessel, in the fervor of the moment, when he saw the enemy hastily retreating to their ships, and looked at the flag he had watched for so anxiously as the morning opened; that he had written some lines, or brief notes that would aid him in calling them to mind, upon the back of a letter which he happened to have in his pocket; and for some of the lines, as he proceeded, he was obliged to rely altogether on his memory; and that he finished it in the boat on his way to the shore, and wrote it out as it now stands at the hotel on the night he reached Baltimore and immediately after he arrived.

"He said that on the next morning he took it to Judge (Joseph H.) Nicholson to ask him what he thought of it, and that he was so much pleased with it that he immediately sent it to a printer and directed copies to be struck off in handbill form."

This flag, with 15 stripes and 15 stars, was the first to cross the continent to the Pacific; Meriwether Lewis and William Clark carried it on their expedition of 1804-1806. It was flown over Fort McHenry at Baltimore, Sept. 13-14, 1814; the garrison flag, originally measuring 30 by 42 feet, and 28 by 32 after repairs, was shown folded for many years, but a special display case was made at the Smithsonian new Museum of History and Technology to show it at full length.

I believe in the United States of America as a Government of the people, by the people, and for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign Nation of many sovereign States; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established on those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity

For it was on the night separating Sept. 13 and 14, 1814, that Francis Scott Key was held aboard a British warship in the Baltimore harbor;

'twas at dawn on the morning of Sept. 14 that he saw the broad stripes and bright stars, so gallantly streaming through the rockets' red glare.

Chief Justice Roger Taney, a brother-in-law of Francis Scott Key, asked him about the writing, and reporter Key's reply:

"that he commenced it on the deck of the vessel, in the fervor of the moment, when he saw the enemy hastily retreating to their ships, and looked at the flag he had watched for so anxiously as the morning opened; that he had written some lines, or brief notes that would aid him in calling them to mind, upon the back of a letter which he happened to have in his pocket; and for some of the lines, as he proceeded, he was obliged to rely altogether on his memory; and that he finished it in the boat on his way to the shore, and wrote it out as it now stands at the hotel on the night he reached Baltimore and immediately after he arrived.

"He said that on the next morning he took it to Judge (Joseph H.) Nicholson to ask him what he thought of it, and that he was so much pleased with it that he immediately sent it to a printer and directed copies to be struck off in handbill form."

This flag, with 15 stripes and 15 stars, was the first to cross the continent to the Pacific; Meriwether Lewis and William Clark carried it on their expedition of 1804-1806. It was flown over Fort McHenry at Baltimore, Sept. 13-14, 1814; the garrison flag, originally measuring 30 by 42 feet, and 28 by 32 after repairs, was shown folded for many years, but a special display case was made at the Smithsonian new Museum of History and Technology to show it at full length.

I believe in the United States of America as a Government of the people, by the people, and for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign Nation of many sovereign States; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established on those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity

Peace Talks Resume

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam presented its same hard conditions for peace in Vietnam at the Paris talks today, showing no change since the death of President Ho Chi Minh. The United States then assailed Hanoi for "inhumane treatment" of American prisoners of war.

The 33rd plenary session had been postponed Sept. 4 at North Vietnam's request for a mourning period for Ho, who died Sept. 3. The North Vietnamese and Viet Cong repeated demands for a U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam and a coalition government.

Then U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, who said in advance his speech had "unusual significance," challenged North Vietnam to permit inspection of prison camps and to abide by the Geneva convention on treatment of prisoners of war.

"You should realize," he declared, "that your failure to act in accordance with humane practice flies in the face of world public opinion as a whole."

Lodge told Ambassador Ha Van Lau, sitting in as chief of the North Vietnamese delegation: "We have long been concerned by your refusal to permit impartial inspection of your prison camps. Frankly, this refusal inevitably brings up the thought that you fear that an inspection would not confirm your claims of humane treatment."

Lodge said that concern about treatment of American prisoners held in North Vietnam has been recently deepened by statements made earlier this month by two American prisoners released in August by the North Vietnamese.

He quoted seaman Douglas B. Hegdahl as saying: "I was kept in solitary confinement for over a year. I was made to stand with my hands over my head for trying to talk with other prisoners of war."

Cable Television Questions Answered

Questions are being raised about cable television and the Thursday election whether the city should issue a franchise to a firm to provide the service.

The proposal, if approved by a simple majority, would grant a franchise to See Mor Cable TV Inc. No one would be required to take the service. Cable television would not interfere with other television reception.

A spokesman for See Mor said the three area television channels from Cape Girardeau, Paducah and Harrisburg stations would be available. In addition to these stations offering programs of the three major networks, plans, which are subject to Federal Communications Corporation approval, call for availability of an independent channel out of St. Louis as well as an educational channel offered to schools at no cost.

The monthly fee would be $5 per month. There would be a $10 installation fee.

If granted the franchise, See Mor would pay the city an additional $5,000 fee and five percent of its annual gross revenue.

A spokesman for See Mor said cable television provides the lowest cost method to enjoy interference-free television reception from a variety of stations. Clarity of color television would be improved, according to him.

No antenna or converters are necessary for cable television reception.

Hearnes Says People Misled by Blackwell

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Gov. Warren E. Hearnes said Friday night that Sen. Earl Blackwell is a demagogue misleading the people of Missouri.

Hearnes said it simply isn't true that Missouri is losing $176 million a year in sales tax as Blackwell contended earlier this week.

"For this to be true," the governor said, "every businessman in Missouri, including the man who operates the corner grocery store or filling station, would have to steal $2,200 from the state every year."

"If one man wants to accuse all Missouri businessmen of such wide-scale dishonesty, let him say it in those words."

Hearnes spoke to about 400 persons at a $50-a-plate testimonial dinner for Sen. Donald L. Manford, D-Kansas City.

Blackwell, D-Hillsboro, president pro tem of the Missouri Senate, is a political rival of the governor and is trying to block Hearnes' efforts to obtain an increase in state income taxes.

"What's the popular thing to do?" Hearnes asked. "Be a demagogue. Fool the people. Talk to them about cutting all the fat out of the budget and that's the way we'll finance next year's budget."

The governor said it would take $40 million more to finance the budget.

Hearnes said the full story of his call for a raise in taxes had been kept from the public by Blackwell's actions.

"There is something wrong when one demagogue can get more attention and more headlines than even the chief executive of the state," he added.

Manford told the crowd he may face retribution because he asked the Senate last Monday to oust Blackwell as president pro tem. The action failed by two votes.

Manford said he might lose his chairmanship of the Senate committee on mental health, and that payment by the state for his secretary was in dispute.

St. Louis Area Mayors Indicted For Bribery

CLAYTON, Mo. (AP) — The mayors of two St. Louis County municipalities have been indicted on charges of soliciting a bribe.

St. Louis County police said Mayor Earl L. Davis of Bridgeton and Mayor Larry L. Dent of Manchester surrendered early today after learning a suppressed indictment had been returned against them by a circuit court grand jury.

Named as codefendants were Granville L. Gambin, a lawyer and associate of Davis, and Jerry L. Blake, former administrative assistant to Davis.

Gambin and Blake also surrendered. The four were released on bonds of $1,500 each.

The indictment charged the four were soliciting a bribe from William H. Marx, a developer, in return for Davis' favorable action on Marx's construction plan for the Rock Industrial Park in Bridgeton.

The Post-Tribune has opposed the new law editorially for months.

It noted a legislator with 20 years service could retire at 55 and get $6,720 a year the rest of his life. A state employee with 20 years service, earning he same pay as a legislator, $8,400, would receive only $2,140 a year.

The newspaper noted the petitions would have to be filed with the secretary of state by Oct. 13, the date the new law becomes effective. That would give the voters a chance to pass on it in the November 1970 election.

Property Survey Outlined

BENTON — If plans go as scheduled, Scott county real estate property should be more equal in assessments than ever before by 1971.

During a meeting yesterday with city officials in the county, the county court disclosed plans for an equalization program next summer under the direction of the state tax commission. It was disclosed the re-assessment will cost the county an estimated $20,000.

Regarding an individual company re-assessment program, Joe Ellis, Charleston, a field representative of the tax commission, said it cost Randolph County $85,000 for a private firm.

The county court appealed to cities and towns to share the cost of equalization. The request, which is not mandatory, calls for municipalities to pay 10 cents per person living within the city limits.

The city representatives at the meeting, agreed their respective towns would probably submit to the cost. Regarding cost, an example would be if Sikeston has 16,000 residents, its payment would be $1,600.

Sikeston City Manager W. Raymond Miller told the county court judges he believes they are "on the right track" regarding the equalization and he gave assurance that Sikeston would cooperate.

The county court asked city officials to get approval from councils as soon as possible and forward the information to County Clerk Phil Waldman.

Ellis said the most costly part of equalization would be hiring a qualified person to determine the top acre of farm land in the county from which to create five grades of land. Buildings on farm property also will be re-assessed.

Ellis said schools are cooperating in supplying student manpower to measure homes in town. After this is completed, agents of the commission will come in and determine details. Contractors will be contacted to establish value grades for homes, such as $4 per square foot.

Ellis said homes can be depreciated up to 75 per cent depending on how old the dwelling is.

After the equalization is complete, property owners will have 30 days to go to the court house and study all assessments.

Presiding Judge H. D. Rodgers said 75 per cent of the people are "interested in their neighbor's assessment" and he said the greatest number of complaints stem from this.

At the end of 30 days members of the state tax commission will be in Benton to hear appeals.

Judge J. E. Childress said the equalization would be made even if the cities do not share the cost with the county by paying 10 cents per person.

Ellis predicted the program could be initiated June 1 and completed the second week in August.

This summer the tax commission ordered the county court to raise assessments by $7 million in order to come near the prescribed 30 per cent level.

Ellis said yesterday the purpose of equalization is to place all property values at 30 per cent.

Vancil Wins Award For Conservation

HOLCOMB — Jack Vancil of route one, Campbell, was given the award as the Outstanding Conservation Farmer of 1969.

The award was presented at the 20th anniversary of the Dunklin County Soil and Water Conservation District, at its annual meeting last night at the school cafeteria attended by 100.

The plaque was presented to Vancil by H. B. Maddox of Campbell, treasurer of the district board.

"Each year the Dunklin County Soil and Water Conservation District recognizes its outstanding conservation farmer," Maddox said, "The committee chose one who may have gotten started a little later than others, but one who is making rapid progress."

This past year more than 165 acres were leveled to grade, by Vancil and his two sons, they moved more than 90,000 cubic yards of earth and established about 35 acres of new pasture. His farming program is so arranged that when they are not busy in the regular farming operations they are improving another piece of land," Maddox said.

Speaker for the meeting was Harold Ensley, KCMO radio and TV personality, from Kansas City.

The welcome address was given by James Dement, president of the Holcomb Kiwanis club. This was followed by introductions by Earl Bramlett of Cardwell, chairman of the district board.

Dust Fire Subdued

MOREHOUSE — Quick action by Himmelberger-Harrison Manufacturing Co. employees and firemen prevented a potentially damaging dust fire from spreading this morning.

Troop Pullback Weighed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon weighing a decision on future U.S. troop pullbacks from Vietnam and new moves to end the war, was at his Camp David retreat with some of his closest advisers today.

Henry A. Kissinger, the President's chief national security affairs authority, was among those who accompanied Nixon to the nearby mountain hideaway.

White House sources said the chief executive would be making public statements on Vietnam, but declined to specify when. They doubted the Southeast Asian conflict would be a central item in his speech to the U.N. General Assembly next Thursday.

In addition to the Vietnam problem, Nixon had domestic issues on his mind at Camp David. It was announced he would go over "legislative priorities" with Bryce N. Harlow, assistant for congressional relations; John D. Ehrlichman, presidential counsel, and assistant H. R. Haldeman. Nixon meets Tuesday with Republican leaders in Congress.

Nixon left Washington Friday after a major review of the Vietnam situation with top U.S. officials from Washington, Saigon and Paris. The President planned to return to his capital this afternoon.

The possibility of another round of U.S. force withdrawals, beyond the 25,000-man pullback announced last June, and of opportunities toward a peaceful solution that might open up following the death of North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh, were discussed at the broadcast review Friday.

As the 35th session for the administration's top strategists was ending, the White House disclosed that Nixon had ordered a 36-hour halt in B52 bombings over South Vietnam.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler portrayed the bombing pause as an effort to determine whether Hanoi intended to build down offensive weapons following its proclaimed 24-hour cease-fire honoring Ho. Nixon ordered the giant bombers back into action after the enemy attacks returned to the level of before the cease-fire, the spokesman said.

The White House announcement of the brief halt in B52 raids left several questions unanswered, and administration spokesmen at the White House, State Department and the Pentagon were continuing their silence about circumstances surrounding the presidential action.

Ziegler sought at one point to answer a newsman's question as to why the B52s resumed bombing after the cease-fire ended, then 19 hours later started the B-52 raiding ordered by the President.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

JUST ANOTHER SMALL BUSINESSMAN

How would you like to start a small business? Would you be interested in a $135,000 loan with a $15,000 personal stake to buy a $150,000 automobile dealership? Try the Small Business Administration of the federal government. It has the money, and its yours to begin with since it comes from the taxes you pay. The government guarantees payment of the loan and a local bank puts up the money.

This is one of our government's methods of helping the needy small businessman get his foot in the door and build a small business of his own. It is a worthwhile project on the whole. We need more small businesses to spread the wealth of the nation to all who can make it in the field of business. Very few people really mind helping a man in need of a little capital to get a start.

In the case of the $135,000 loan, you must be a member of a minority group to qualify. If you are not so qualified, the collateral and equity you are required to furnish might be up to 50% of the total amount of the loan. But as a member of a minority race you put up about 15% and, as in the instance above, this may be lowered or waived.

The government - guaranteed $135,000 loan did go to a good risk, however, even though two banks had refused the applicant's previous requests for the money. He is currently employed at a salary of $85,000 and must be a fairly good businessman since he already owns a share of a chicken franchise firm and a florist shop. The loan recipient is St. Louis Cardinal baseball player, Lou Brock, who said he thought that his loan request was being handled in the conventional manner. He has also said that he did not know the loan was being guaranteed under the privileged minority program.

We wonder how many more loans fall into this pattern? How many other $85,000-a-year men are "starting out" in business with the taxpayer as co-signer on their loans? Maybe it's time someone found out. Where are the congressional watchdogs?

QUARRELLOVER OCCUPATIONAL HAZARDS

Powerful business interests are prepared to lobby against occupational safety legislation coming to the attention of Congress this month. What is expected is a repetition of the assault that bottled up the Johnson administration's proposals in the House Rules Committee last year.

The House Select Subcommittee on Labor begins hearings Tuesday, Sept. 16, on proposals by President Nixon (HR 13373) to establish an occupational health and safety board empowered to set standards to protect workers. The Senate Labor subcommittee is slated to hear later this month both the administration's plan (S 2788) and a measure which has the endorsement of the AFL-CIO as "much stronger" than the Nixon bill. The latter proposal (S 2193, HR 3809) was introduced by Sen. Harrison A. Williams, Jr. (D N. J.), who heads the Senate subcommittee, and Rep. James G. O'Hara (D Mich.).

President Nixon on Aug. 6 in his message on safety standards told the Congress: "It is interesting to note that in the last five years, the number of man-days lost because of work-related injuries has been 10 times the number lost because of strikes." Some 250 million man-days of work are lost to accidents each year.

In 1968, W. Willard Wirtz, then Secretary of Labor, gave this rundown: each year 14,500 workers are killed on the job; more than 2.2 million workers suffer disabling injuries; some $1.5 billion in wages is lost annually; the economy loses nearly $7 billion. The prospect for another tough fight in Senate and House committees is clear. Legislation may not come until the next session, if then.

"MADE IN JAPAN" PROBLEMS

Five Japanese officials arrive in Washington on Monday, Sept. 15, to learn whether the "Made in Japan" label on textiles is as maddening to congressmen as Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans portrayed it during his recent Tokyo mission. Stans left Tokyo in July without convincing the Japanese government that it should decrease textile exports to the United States.

He hinted broadly that its refusal would spur Congress to enact protectionist trade barriers. So far that hasn't happened. The protectionist movement may have reached its zenith last year when hundreds of bills were introduced to impose import quotas but none became law. Despite pressures in Congress, there is understanding in government that America's sagging international balance of trade might be hurt rather than helped by quotas. They tend to invite retaliation.

The Nixon administration has given lip service both to free trade and to relief for the domestic textile industry, but it seems unsure which deserves priority. On the one hand, Nixon's special representative on trade matters, Carl J. Gilbert, is a free-trade advocate. On the other hand, Stans is sympathetic to domestic industry. He has cited Labor Department studies indicating a loss of 100,000 jobs a year in textiles if present import trends continue. Quotas already apply to cotton textiles (under terms of a 30-nation agreement) but not to woollens and synthetic fibers. One-fourth of all wool textiles sold on the American market last year were imported.

Well, within recent months I've seen a bride (and the bride's mother and the bridesmaids) all attired in miniskirts - one of the grandfathers observed that all the material combined in the dress side costume wouldn't be enough to flag a handcar. At least it wasn't necessary to have an attendant to sweep the bride's train out of the way so the minister, or father of the bride, or the bride herself, wouldn't trip on 40 yards of tulle or voile or whatever that stuff is.

With train or without, you can see in the bride's eyes that this is her moment of triumph, and the only tears shed at a wedding these days are those of the bride's father, as he contemplates the tab for flowers, candles, raiment to be worn only once, and the discomfort of his headwater uniform. Somehow a black bow tie never set right at his throat.

Probably nothing causes more dissension in a family than the question of the proper hour for going to bed. The parents think nine or ten o'clock is late enough, and the young people stand up for the right to stay out later. It is a subject fussed over at supper, and grumbled over at breakfast, and probably will continue to be a matter of dissension as long as tastes of the young and old differ.

MODEST A tailor who had rented a new shop in a fashionable section of Chicago took a friend to see it. As they approached it, they passed a tailor's shop with this sign over the door: HERE IS THE BEST TAILOR IN CHICAGO. Then they came to one with this printed sign in his window: THE BEST TAILOR IN THE WORLD.

"What are you going to do about it?" asked the friend. "This," said the tailor, and produced a card reading: THE BEST TAILOR ON THIS STREET.

When the late Frank Allen was Lieutenant-Governor of Massachusetts, he visited Calvin Coolidge at the White House and said to the President.

"When you were Lieutenant-Governor, I noticed that you always finished your day's work at exactly five o'clock. I have about the same amount of work, but I never get through until nine. Why is it that you finished at five and I cannot?"

Coolidge explained: "You talk back."

Psychiatry Is NOT The Only Answer, But May Be The Best Answer

Dear Ann Landers: Most of us here at Governor Dummer Academy in Byfield, Mass., think you are nutty. Every time somebody writes to you with a problem you tell them to go see a shrink. Such advice can really shake up a person. They get to thinking they are crazy and this can make a person pretty nervous.

If psychiatry is the answer to everything how come people got along without it for so many years? How about kicking this one around in your column, Granny? — The Govies

Dear Govies: The early settlers drained off a lot of their hostility and anger just trying to stay alive. They hunted animals for food, built shelter in a wilderness, fought Indians and made their own clothes and shoes and soap and candles. And don't forget, chum, there were fewer people around in those days. Life was not so nerve-racking and competitive. Even so, there was emotional illness — it just wasn't recognized as such.

Emotionally disturbed people were thought to be "possessed by the devil." They were often tortured in an attempt to rid their bodies of the evil spirits. I think the couch is better, don't you?

Dear Ann Landers: When I was 14 I hated you. Now that I am 20 I can look back and see where you were right and I was wrong.

I remember the argument I had with my parents on my 14th birthday. I announced that Jim and I were going steady. My mother handed me a column you had written against going steady and I got mad and tore it up.

Just to prove my parents were wrong I went steady with Jim for five years. One day I realized he was boring me to death and I just couldn't spend the rest of my life with him. The breakup was easier than I thought it would be because we had a frank talk and it turned out that Jim was just as bored with me as I was with him.

Imagine my surprise when I discovered I didn't know one boy to date. I had been "Jim's property" for so long I was completely out of it. What was worse, I had no girl friends who could help me because I'd spent all my time with Jim.

It took six months to get back into circulation but now I'm dating several fellows and discovering the world for the first time. I could kick myself for having wasted all those wonderful years.

The older I get, the better you look, Ann. Stay with it! — Awake At Last

Dear Ann Landers: My husband took our 1963 Thunderbird into a service station and it cost him $120 for three hours of work. The station manager said it needed new ball joints and new idler arms before they could align the wheels.

The next day the noise came back so my husband took the car in again. The man said it needed a new shock. All the other stuff was unnecessary. How can the public be protected against such gyps! — Rockford, Ill.

Dear Ann Landers: The best place to take a car for repairs is to the dealer who sells that make. I'm glad to report that congress is in the process of investigating the auto repair gyps and hopefully their days are numbered.

Do you feel ill at ease ... out of it? Is everybody having a good time but you? Write for Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key To Popularity," enclosing with your request 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

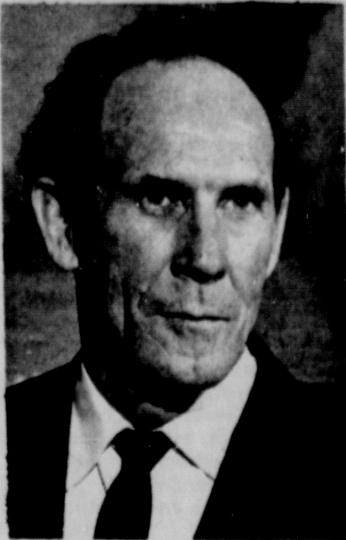

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Evangelist-Artist To Hold Revival At Morley

The Rev. Tom K. Simms, Puxico, formerly of Kountze, Tex., will hold a revival at the First Baptist church of Morley, tomorrow Sunday through Sept. 21. Services will be at 7:30.

To make the sermon paramount in each service, Rev. Simms presents a fully developed painting which he finishes during the song service. The paintings are not especially illustrative of the sermon of the moment, but each one depicts a great truth or person from the Bible.

Rev. Simms has been in the field of evangelism 15 years and has held revivals throughout the United States. He has been a pastor, district missionary, and a religious art instructor in the New Orleans Seminary. He received his training at the University of Oklahoma, the Arts Students League of New York where he studied on a grant, and the New Orleans Baptist Seminary. Rev. Simms is married, and he and his wife have four children.

SERMON: WORSHIP AND LIFE by Rev. Joseph H. Wagner

The POWER of FAITH BY WOODI ISHMAEL

The teaching and example of a devout Christian mother is a most important ingredient in making a boy into a fine man — and sometimes a great man or a hero. Mrs. Effie Jackson of Newnan, Ga., knows the rewards of being such a mother.

Widowed in 1935, she raised seven boys into fine men. But it was her youngest, Joe, who became a national hero. She had taught him dedication to duty, selfless service and the golden rule.

On May 12, 1968, Lt. Col. Joe Jackson's power of faith shone through as he landed his unarmed C123 transport aircraft in a rain of rockets and mortar fire on an enemy- overrun special forces camp in Kham Duc, Vietnam. His mission was to rescue the three remaining survivors of the camp.

At great risk and possible loss of his own life, Lt. Col. Jackson saved the lives of the three men, and is the latest Air Force recipient of the nation's highest award, The Medal of Honor. But that honor also goes to Mrs. Effie Jackson, whose faith in God and prayers gave Joe his singleminded dedication and courage.

Sikeston Fails First Test, 31-14

Power running by Robert Mayfield and Van Pitman ignited a second half surge that lifted Mayfield, Ky. to its second straight win of the season as it topped Sikeston 31-14 at Public School Stadium in the Bulldogs season opener last night.

Mayfield and Pitman staged a second half show that produced 24 points that wiped out 7-7 half time deadlock and set Sikeston back 0-2 in the series between the two schools.

Coach Jack Morris' talented crew emerged from a halftime discussion with a fired up offense that drove 62 yards in six plays for a tie breaking score with Mayfield picking up 41 yards in two carries that set up quarterback David Fowler's one yard plunge.

Mayfield scored on a nine yard run by Pitman in the first quarter with Randy Rains converting for a 7-0 lead.

Sikeston, with Ed Troop passing for 41 yards on a drive, scored from one yard out with Jerry Taylor adding the tying point on the PAT conversion.

Pitman scampered 18 yards for a 19-7 Mayfield lead in the third quarter before Troop pitched to Mike Shafer for a 14-yard TD. Taylor's PAT conversion put the Dogs within five points, 19-4.

But failing to capitalizing on Sikeston's defense was impressive throughout the first half but seemed to have stalled after the intermission, allowing Mayfield to roll up 182 yards in rushing after checking them 69 through the first two quarters.

The Bulldogs unleashed an attack here last night against the powerful Mayfield Cardinals that more or less stunned the curious onlookers.

Sikeston was the predicted underdog for the battle as the statistics showed but a devastating aerial game from Coach Bill Priday's ranks was the deciding factor that set the Cardinals back in the opening half and just allowed the birds to seven points and a halftime tie.

Eddie Troop, a 170 pound senior passed for a total of 67 yards in the first half which tallied a completion record of 7 for 10 in his debut at the quarterback controls. Troop saw

Moss, Mules Score

POPLAR BLUFF - Using a touted defense and the running of Hosie Moss, the Poplar Bluff Mules opened their grid campaign last night with a 20-0 non-league win over Springfield Glendale.

Moss ran for two touchdowns, both in the final quarter, jaunting 34 yards for the first and then shot in from 13 yards out after teammate Eddie Ray Robinson got the team on the board with a recovered blocked punt in the second quarter.

Quarterback Ken Link pitched to Mark Richardson for a two point conversion in the final period.

Glendale bested the Mules in the opener last season 13-0 after Poplar Bluff took a 41-0 victory in the series opener in 1967.

The Mules host the Kennett Indians in an Northern Division league game next week.

Absorbing Novel Is Funny And Fast-Paced

THE CENTER OF THE ACTION. By Jerome Weidman. Random House. $6.95.

Summer is a time when good fiction grows scarce, and book reviewers compete for what little is available.

Weidman's new novel is good fiction — well-written, well-plotted, fast-paced, and funny. A solid job by a first-class professional.

The book details the life and times of Ted Leff, a very smart New York type who wants to get out of the Seventh Avenue garment district and up, up and away — in this case to the publishing world of Fourth Avenue.

Ted's a lot like the hard-runners of other novels, but with a difference — he's funny. He's also conniving and avaricious. But his sense of humor — or rather his method of observing the world about him and commenting upon it — saves this from being another novel about the poor but smart guy, who wants the world and is willing to do just about anything to get it.

MIKE SHAFER (dark jersey) hauls in a Ed Troop pass for a score in the third quarter of last night's game at Public School Stadium. The play covered 14 yards and put the Bulldogs within six points of the Mayfield Cardinals. Mayfield added a pair of fourth period scores for a 31-14 win.

Malden's Clayton Runs For 30 Points

MALDEN -- Don Clayton got a big jump toward repeating and defending his scoring title of a year ago as the Malden Green Wave opened their season with a 42-7 victory over Kennett with Clayton running for 30 points, including four TD's and eight extra points.

Coach Jack Phillips was overjoyed with his backfield performance that had Clayton, Ron Hamlett and Steve Barber running for 147, 136 and 137 yards respectively.

The big Green got off with 14 points in the first quarter as Hamlett drove in from 10 yards out and darted 55 yards for scores with Clayton running the extra point.

Clayton scored eight points in the second period, slipping in from 20 yards and running for the two-point conversion.

Kennett made it 22-7 at intermission as the Indians tight end caught a pass for a score.

Clayton scored twice in the third quarter and ran for a two-point conversion and ended the evening with a fourth quarter score and two-point conversion.

Malden goes to Jackson for a non-league game next Friday.

Eagles Take Opener, 18-0

SCOTT CITY -- Returning an opening second half kickoff that broke a scoreless barrier that prolonged throughout the first half, the visiting East Prairie Eagles crashed through the ISC defense for a 14-0 opening victory.

Stewart Baine, a 150 pound junior halfback, proved to be the workhorse for the birds as he capitalized on the only two scores of the game for a total of 122 yards a what was the third score late in the final quarter but was called because of a clipping penalty.

His first tally came from the opening kickoff in the second half for a 65 yard run which set the Rams back on their heels. Quarterback, Robert Faulkoff, let loose with one of his 12 completions for a 50 yard fling to Baine for his other score which proved to be ample points to capture the victory.

East Prairie ran and passed all night against the somewhat weak defense of the rams for 238 total yards and allowed a mere 22 yards to be pushed against them.

The Eagles will play hot to powerful Chaffee eleven next week as Scott City travels to Gideon.

PRESCRIPTION PRICES

How are prescription prices determined? We have a policy in this matter, the only one we can follow. We do not offer bargains in prescriptions — there is no cut-rate way to health. Nor do we pretend to under-sell. Prescription prices simply are determined by the cost of the ingredients and operating expense. The prices we charge are as low as satisfactory service and effective drugs will allow.

Bearcats Serve Notice

DEXTER -- Dexter's grid Bearcats served notice on Southern Conference foes that they must be reckoned with in this year's title chase as they rallied behind a suddenly meshing titanic defensive to overcome a first quarter 7-0 deficit and go on to record a 28-7 win over the Jackson Indians in their season's opener, as a sparse crowd of some 1,000 looked on.

Coach Clyde Vaughn termed the win a "team effort" and such it was, even though hard running halfback Bruce Hindman authored a pair touchdowns on 60 and 38 yard treks and quarterback Gary Trammell drove 10 yards for another, before the second team took over. Alan Rendelman, who paired with John Robinson to render the Indian offensive impotent on defense, scampered 30 yards in the final minute for the Bearcats final tally.

Jackson scored first on what was a tainted triple block affair that saw no penalty enacted, since the official covering that portion of the play was himself immobilized by a clip and lay aground as the fleeing halfback Mike Myer traversed 32 yards for the score, aided by the illegal blocking. Ron Barks kicked the point after and Jackson, reportedly strong on defense, seemed away and winging.

The Indian defensive stopped a Bearcat drive at the Indian 11 in the second quarter but Larry Baker split the uprights with a three pointer for a 3-7 trial.

The go ahead 'Cat talley came as Dexter, imbued with an offensive spirit after their defensive unit had twice stopped Jackson drives, sent Lindman on his 60-yard cutback touchdown sprint and Baker converted for a 10-7 advantage. Rick Barber had intercepted a desperation Walker pass to gain possession at the Dexter 34.

Paul Richey recovered a errant Walker miscue at the Jackson 34 and Rendelman and Barber exploded twice to the 10, from which point Trammell skirted left end for the score. The point try failed again, as the 'Cats showed a 16-7 advantage.

Hindman broke off tackle, behind a perfect block by Rendelman that sprung him on a 38-yard scoring foray and again Baker failed to add the PAT.

The second team took over with three minutes left and, after holding the Indians, Baker sidestepped his way 30 yards for the final touchdown.

Dexter, using three aerial completions in as many tries, kept Jackson off balance with an aerial threat that developed into handoffs in the backfield instead of passes.

The win avenged a 1968 loss that Jackson enjoyed via a 14-0 margin.

Next week Dexter goes to Portageville while Jackson takes on Malden.

SIKESTON'S Turner Marshall (32) breaks around on Mayfield tackler but encounters a pair of Cardinal defenders as he picks up 15 yards and a first down during the season opener at Public School Stadium last night. Mayfield won 31-14.

Gotto Scores 10 In Pirate Opener

PERRYVILLE -- Missouri's pass from quarterback Gary Gatto in the second. Bill Gotto defending 3-A high school Kuls in the second. Bill Gotto football champions opened their split the uprights with his second season with an impressive 28-0 extra point of the evening for a win over Ste. Genevieve here last 14-0 halftime lead.

Gatto ran in from three yards out in the third period and Coach Terry Smith's Pirates Frenzel had an eight yard dash used a long run and a pass in the fourth period for scores, first half for scores, as Kirk Gotto added the extra points for Frenzel got the home team on a 10 point evening.

the board with a dashing 62 yard The Pirates defense was sprint in the first quarter while impressive as it stalled the Rick Gebhardt took a 35-yard visitors ground game, knocking two balls loss for fumbles. Perryville gets into conference action next week as it travels to Sikeston for a Northern Division battle.

The Pirates won this game last season and ended in a tie with Cape and Sikeston for the league championship after losing to Cape late in the season.

Soybean Loan
Maturity Date
Changed

COLUMBIA - Price-support loan availability and maturity dates have advanced one month for 1969-crop soybeans in order to improve the harvest time storage and marketing situation for producers, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced. A support price of $2.28 is set up for the Botheel area.

As a result, the final price-support availability date for 1969-crop soybeans will be May 31, 1970. The loan maturity date and the final date for producers to give notice of intent to sell soybeans to Commodity Credit Corporation will be June 30, 1970. These dates are one month earlier than for 1963 and subsequent crop years. For prior crop years, the dates were the same as the ones announced today for the 1969 crop.

With soybean harvesting coming earlier each year, the handling of price-support soybeans following the loan maturity date has increasingly extended into the new crop marketing period. This has seriously interfered with storage availability to producers for new crop soybeans. The change will help solve this difficulty by clearing CCC soybeans out of warehouses earlier, thus freeing space for the new crop. It will also extend transportation needs for soybeans over a longer period and lessen the demand for cars for old crop use during harvest.

USDA officials noted that soybeans and corn have had identical price-support dates even though the soybean marketing year was changed in 1965 to a month earlier on September 1 in recognition of earlier harvesting. Today's change will set the price-support dates for both crops at the same time interval from the beginning of the marketing years.

Share Averages 40 Cents

FARMERS SHARE OF FOOD DOLLAR AVERAGES 40 CENTS
COLUMBIA - When the consumer spends a dollar on food at the grocery store, he buys 40 cents worth of products and 60 cents worth of marketing service.

That's just the average. The farmer's share depends both on prices he gets for his commodity and the costs of marketing that commodity. In general, the more marketing services, the greater the cost.

So for a product such as bread, which requires considerable processing and servicing from the unmilled wheat to the packaged loaf Mrs. Consumer brings home, the farmer's share of each dollar spent is 14 cents. For eggs, where the packaging is done by the hen, the farmer receives 65

Farmers Head for Record Crop Year Despite Some Drought

WASHINGTON (AP) - million bushels harvested in 1967, the previous top year. Sorghum yields were predicted to average 55.3 bushels an acre, compared with the previous high of 56.1 bushels in 1966.

The Agriculture Department said Wednesday that its production index for all crops dropped one point in August but still was 20.7 per cent more than the 1957-59 average.

Corn production was estimated at 4.3 billion bushels, up slightly from August and 1 per cent less than 1968 output. The record crop was 4.8 billion bushels in 1967.

Prospects for sorghum grain - considered second to corn as a livestock feed-jumped 1 per cent during the month to an expected record of 758 million bushels.

This would mean a crop 3 per cent larger than last year and slightly more than the 756

Revised estimates also showed all wheat production this year at 1.5 billion bushels, about two million fewer than indicated in August and 7 per cent less than the record 1.6 billion bushels produced last year.

Acreages of corn and sorghum grain expected for harvest this fall totaled about 2 per cent less than last year, and the wheat acreage was down 14 per cent, largely because of government control programs calling for reduced production.

The September report also estimated soybean production at about 1.1 billion bushels, down

1 per cent from August and 2 per cent less than last year's record crop.

Oats were estimated at 938 million bushels, a 4 per cent drop from August but 1 per cent more than last year and the largest production since 1963.

Barley output was forecast at 416 million bushels, an increase of 11 million from August and about equal to last year's production.

The estimated yield per acre and production, respectively, of important crops by major producing states included:

Corn for grain - Missouri 69 bushels per acre and production of 191,889,000; Kansas 77 and 90,783,000.

Winter wheat - Missouri 30 bushels per acre and production of 31,440,000; Kansas 31.5 and 304,070,000.

Soybeans - Missouri 23 bushels per acre and production 78,522,000; Kansas 23 and 22,011,000.

Sugar beets - Kansas 16.5 tons per acre and production 759,000.

State of Emergency Declared at Cairo

CAIRO, ILL. (AP) - The City of Cairo, torn by racial antagonism, was placed under a state of emergency Thursday by Mayor Lee P. Stenzel.

Stenzel issued the proclamation after 600 students were dismissed at the city's junior and senior high schools following a series of scuffles between Negro and white students.

No other incidents were reported but Cairo police were joined by about 100 Illinois state policemen in patrolling the streets of the city at the extreme southern tip of Illinois.

Cairo has a population of 8,000 persons, 400 per cent of whom are Negro. The community has been the scene of frequent racial eruptions in recent years and the Illinois National Guard has been called out several times to restore order.

Racial troubles flared in the city in April and May this year after black leaders charged that Negroes were being harassed by a white citizens' group called the White Hats. The White Hats later were disbanded.

In recent months a series of firebombings, fires that were termed arson, sporadic gunfire and other acts of violence have plagued the community.

Stenzel's proclamation, issued under an ordinance giving him broad powers in such an emergency, prohibited gatherings of more than two persons on city streets day or night. Also banned were loitering, parades and picketing.

The declaration of emergency came after several days of racial confrontation over a black boycott of downtown stores now in its fifth month.

Pickets have been met with increasingly large and hostile white crowds for a week.

Wednesday, black pickets - limited to six by city ordinance - were met by white counter-pickets carrying American flags and a tape recorder blaring patriotic music.

Helmeted troopers interrupted fights between supporters of the two groups and arrested one white woman and one Negro woman on charges of disorderly conduct.

Shooting was reported Wednesday night, including three shots, fired into the home of retired Negro policeman J. R. Stokes.

The boycott was organized by the predominantly black United Front which says merchants have refused to hire Negroes.

White opposition to the boycott - which has been a serious blow to the city's already faltering economy - has been organized by the United Citizens for Community Action which claims a membership of 2,000.

Bloodhound's Nose Satisfactory Evidence

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.
Sam was sitting innocently on his front porch when a bloodhound, followed by several investigating policemen, bounded onto his porch. And, as Sam and the dog stared at each other, eyeball to eyeball, the police found some of the loot from a recent burglary in Sam's garage. The result? Sam was charged with pulling off the job.
In court, Sam was convicted in bang-bang fashion. But it was the testimony of the bloodhound that clinched the conviction. It seemed that once on the trial, the dog had led the police directly to Sam.
"You can't take the word of that dog over mine," Sam argued on appeal. "I'm innocent! The dog's a four-legged liar."
"Not that dog," answered the district attorney. "He's a true thoroughbred with the ability of his breed to sniff out anyone. He's been on more right tracks than a train."
IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you affirm Sam's conviction on the testimony of a dog?
This is how the judge ruled: YES! He held that when a bloodhound is of pure blood and of stock characterized by an acuteness of scent and power of discrimination, the result of his sniffing is admissible in court as evidence. (Based upon a 1965 North Carolina Supreme Court Decision).

Earth-Style Life Ruled Out on Mars

WASHINGTON (AP) — If life were to exist on Mars, it would be greatly different from that on Earth, a preliminary examination of Mariner 6 and 7 data indicates.

Space agency scientists said that evidence sent to Earth by the spacecraft when they flew past the planet July 30 and Aug. 17 shows the Martian atmosphere "generally hostile to any Earth-style life forms."

In a briefing on the results of the Mariner flybys, scientists reported ultraviolet measurements showed atomic hydrogen and atomic oxygen in Mars' upper atmosphere. Carbon dioxide and carbon monoxide also were present as expected.

But the initial study failed to reveal any evidence of nitrogen, the scientists said.

"If additional intensive analysis substantiates this conclusion, a very key chemical compound is missing from the Martian environment," their report said. "If this is true, any life chemistry on Mars will have to be very much different than we know on Earth."

Measurements with an infrared spectrometer aboard Mariner 6 showed temperature variations of as much as 75 degrees within a 60-by-60 mile area.

The data also shows there was local reflectivity of solar light, and makes clear the darker spots on Mars are warmer than the light areas.

GREENHOUSE PAUL FLOWERS

Oh! thus be it ever when freemen shall stand,

Between their lov'd home and the war's desolation!

Blest with vict'ry and peace, may the heav'n rescued land,

Praise the Power that hath made and preserved us a nation.

Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,

And this be our motto, "In God is our trust,"

And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave,

O'er the land of the free, and one and inseparable;

On those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity

be extraordinarily appropriate for which American patriots

times to fly the Star-Spangled banner, for the words of the fortunes.

For it was on the night enemies, and to defend it against all separating Sept. 13 and 14, 1814, that Francis Scott Key was held aboard a British warship in the Baltimore harbor;

'twas at dawn on the morning of Sept. 14 that he saw the broad stripes and bright stars, so gallantly streaming through the rockets' red glare.

Chief Justice Roger Taney, a brother-in-law of Francis Scott

Key, asked him about the writing, and reporter Key's reply:

"that he commenced it on the deck of the vessel, in the fervor of the moment, when he saw the enemy hastily retreating to their ships, and looked at the flag he had watched for so anxiously as the morning opened; that he had written some lines, or brief notes that would aid him in calling them to mind, upon the back of a letter which he happened to have in his pocket; and for some of the lines, as he proceeded, he was obliged to rely altogether on his memory; and that he finished it in the boat on his way to the shore, and wrote it out as it now stands at the hotel on the night he reached Baltimore and immediately after he arrived.

"He said that on the next morning he took it to Judge (Joseph H.) Nicholson to ask him what he thought of it, and that he was so much pleased with it that he immediately sent it to a printer and directed copies to be struck off in handbill form."

This flag, with 15 stripes and 15 stars, was the first to cross the continent to the Pacific; Meriwether Lewis and William Clark carried it on their expedition of 1804-1806. It was flown over Fort McHenry at Baltimore, Sept. 13-14, 1814; the garrison flag, originally measuring 30 by 42 feet, and 28 by 32 after repairs, was shown folded for many years, but a special display case was made at the Smithsonian new Museum of History and Technology to show it at full length.

I believe in the United States of America as a Government of the people, by the people, and for the people; whose just powers are derived from he consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic, a sovereign States; a perfect union,

on those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity

which American patriots

times to fly the Star-Spangled banner, for the words of the fortunes.
